THE SILVER QUESTION

Favorably Discussed in Europe.

A FLOOD AND RIOT IN SPAIN.

The McKinley Bill Injures English Interests.

Fast Time Between Chicago and San Francisco.

Europe on Silver.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—A Washington special says: "The feeling in favor of international bimetalism seems to be growing and to be likely to prevail in European cabinets, if the leading European powers can be convinced that the United States does not intend to plunge into free coinage on its own motion. Several gentlemen standing in private life agreed early in the summer to make some inquiries of foreign financiers, with a view to an international agreement, and to report the results to the President and Secretary of the Treasury without expense to the Government. They discovered so friendly a feeling to the use of silver in Europe that they recently asked and obtained credentials from our Government, showing who they are and what they are, without having authority to commit the United States officially to any program. The fact that these credentials have been asked for is regarded by the President as a very encouraging indication of the feeling in England, France and Germany in regard to the remonetization of silver. The gentlemen who have been making the inquiries would not have asked for such credentials if they had not felt that the time is approaching for serious negotiations with European powers, for they have no personal or financial interest in magnifying their office."

Fast Time.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—The train running time between Chicago and San Francisco is soon to be shortened by several hours. On November 1st the Burlington, the Rio Grande and the Central Pacific roads will put into effect a through schedule, on which closer connection at Denver and Ogden than has heretofore been made, will greatly shorten the time of the journey. It is also proposed to quicken the speed of the fast trains so much that a passenger leaving Chicago on Monday evening, for instance, will arrive in San Francisco on Friday evening, instead of Saturday morning as at present. These trains will have attached to them a through tourist car for Portland, a through sleeper for San Francisco and a tourist sleeper for Los Angeles.

It has not been determined exactly the number of hours this arrangement will reduce, but it will not be less than 8 or 10.

Flood and Riot in Spain.

MADRID, Oct. 26.—Telegrams from Merida, in the province of Badajoz, says the flood in that locality continues. The River Ebro overflowed its banks and is submerging the railroads and highways. In many parts of the province floods have carried away a number of telegraph poles and consequently communication by wire has been interrupted. The olive, corn, grape, apple and saffron crops in many parts of the province have been destroyed.

There was a serious riotous fight yesterday in the town of San Michael, province of Modena, between socialists and workmen. Two men were killed and eight seriously injured. The riot was subsequently quelled by the police, who arrested a number of the rioters.

Embarrassed Large Sums.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 26.—A dispatch from Vanburn, Arkansas, says: Col. Weaver, who has been large sums of money received by him from settlers, for land bought from the Little Rock & Fort Smith railroad, disappeared and there is no clue to his whereabouts. His shortage is supposed to be very large, but at this time no account can be had. Many farmers who bought land hold Weaver's receipts for money paid him. Weaver is Superintendent of the Methodist Sunday School, a temperance lecturer and editor of the Graphic. He left behind a wife and two sons.

Will Invest $3,000,000.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 26.—George N. Sims, managing director of the Lobard Trust Company (Limited) of London and New York, was in this city yesterday for a short time.

"I have been made the representative of about $5,000,000 of English capital and am directed to place it where the greatest benefit can be derived," said Sims. "I am not to use it for speculation, but to invest it in real estate, factories and industries. It is my intention to go to Tacoma, Seattle, Portland, Everett and other places along Puget Sound. I shall probably put a great deal of money into Everett and other seaport towns, as we believe the Panama Canal will be opened in five years, and perhaps less. Then there are two great enterprises under consideration that will affect the northwestern interest greatly. One is the establishment of a line of steamers between the Puget Sound and China and Japan. The other is the laying of a submarine cable between the said places. These enterprises are not fully matured, but I can assure you they are almost certain. I am not interested in either, but should like to be, as they will be very profitable."

Sims was urged to tell who were the men back of the two great enterprises, but he refused, except in so far as stating that a part were Englishmen and the others Eastern capitalists.

Collision at Sea.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The British steamer Boston, from Cardiff for London, arrived at Falmouth, after having been in collision early this morning with the British bark Charlwood, from Antwerp for Valparaiso. The Charlwood foundered almost immediately after the collision, with a loss of sixteen lives. Three men were killed on board the Boston at the time of the collision and the steamer's bows were badly stove in. The captain of the Charlwood, his wife, son, governess and the stewardess, together with all the bark's officers and six of the seamen, a total of sixteen persons, were drowned in spite of the desperate efforts made by the life boats of the vessels, which happened to be near the scene of the collision, to rescue them. The efforts of the world-beavers were greatly hampered by the darkness which prevailed at the time of the accident. The spot where the two vessels met is not far from Eddystone Rocks, fourteen miles from Plymouth. Only an apprentice and the captain's daughter were saved.

Crops Damaged.

ATLANTA, Oct. 26.—E. G. Armsby, Cashier of the Kansas Trust & Banking Company, who returned from the western part of the State last evening said: "Unthreshed wheat in that section was damaged from 25 to 50 cent. on account of wet weather and poor shocking. The grain has already commenced to grow, and many stacks are green. A good deal of wheat is still in the shock. The farmers are busily engaged in threshing their crops but will not get through before the first of the year. The acreage of wheat put in this fall will not be as large as last fall."

Struck Against a Reduction.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—In Staffordshire and Worcestershire to-day about 8,000 miners struck against a reduction of 10 per cent. made in their wages. The engineers employed about the Tyne and Wear have decided to stop work Saturday next, owing to disputes between themselves and their employers as to question of pay for overtime. Should the engineers carry out their determination about 30,000 persons will be thrown out of employment.

David's Candidate.

DUBLIN, Oct. 26.—The National Press says it is authorized to state that if Michael Davitt does not see any way in which he can accept the offer made him to stand for the seat in the Commons for North Kilkenny, left vacant by the death of John Pope Hennessy, he will become a candidate for some constituency at the approach of general election.

McKinley Bill Blamed.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—At the quarterly meeting to-day of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce the president said that trade is still depressed and that the latest returns received are unsatisfactory. The president blamed the McKinley bill, Baring Brothers and the South American trouble for the state of affairs complained of.

Instantly Killed.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 26.—While Thomas Bailey and a young man named Little were at work at the new building of the Listowel furniture factory this morning, the scaffold on which they were working gave way and precipitated them to the ground fifty feet below. Both were instantly killed.

Train Wreckers Examined.

DOLAN (Cal.), Oct. 26.—The examination of Al and Jeff Robertson on a charge of train wrecking took place before Judge Stevens this morning. Owing to the smallness of the courtroom the case was tried in Keck's Hall. The proceedings were on arguments as to whether or not the defendants should be tried separately. Judge Stevens ruled that they should be examined separately.

The District Attorney then dismissed the charge against them and they were rearrested and taken to Auburn, where they will probably remain until the Grand Jury meets. C. H. Jones of Sacramento and District Attorney Robinson appeared for the prosecution. The investigation caused much dissatisfaction among the public, who expected to have some sensational developments. The chief objection to a separate trial was the expense to the county and the inconvenience of witnesses.

Starchman, the brakeman accused of shooting a tramp, denies doing the act. The conductor of train No. 3 says Starchman never carried a revolver. The injured man lives in Albany. He is in the hospital at Auburn, and the doctors think he will lose his leg. No arrests have been made.

Important and Interesting Case.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—A. H. Garland, ex-Attorney-General, in the United States Supreme Court to-day moved an advancement in the important and interesting case of the Roman Catholic Bishop of Misqually against John Gibbs, T. M. Anderson, R. T. Yeatman and the United States. By this suit the Bishop seeks to secure a title to some 430 acres of land, comprising the United States military reservation at Vancouver, Washington. The land is now worth over half a million dollars. At the time Oregon Territory was organized, the Catholic Church had a mission at this place, by permission of the Hudson Bay Company, which had its principal trading station at Vancouver. The organic act of Oregon confirmed the title to not exceeding 640 acres to religious societies, occupying land as missionary stations. Under this act the Bishop claims this whole section, while he contends that the Catholic Church merely had permission from the Hudson Bay Company to occupy a small tract for religious purposes, and had no title to the land, except half an acre which had been allowed it.

A Wonderful Night.

LYONS (Iowa), Oct. 26.—Yesterday morning a meteor was observed by the operator at Riggs Station, Iowa, passing directly from east to west. It was red in color and emitted flashes of bluish fire as it passed. For nearly half a minute after its passage it could be traced by a luminous line of fire which seemed to trail behind it. Hunters who came in this morning from a point east of Riggs on the Mississippi river confirm the report and say it was one of the most wonderful sights they ever witnessed.

Filed for Probate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—The will of Joshua Hendy deceased, proprietor of the Hendy Machine Works, was filed for probate to-day. The real estate, consisting of 2,000 acres of timber land in Mendocino county and real estate in this city, the whole being valued at $250,000. The personal property consists of accounts and claims also of the value of $250,000. The property is left to the nephews and niece of the deceased.

The Floods in England.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The floods in England, the result of the recent two weeks' successive heavy gales, continue to do a great amount of damage. The river Thames, in some places extends for a mile or so beyond its banks. The town of Eton and many of the streets of Windsor are impassable and boats are being used to convey the people from house to house.

Statistics Wanted.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The Secretary of State for the Colonial Department asked the Government's Australian Colony to supply the Canadian Government with statistical reports in regard to the fisheries on the southern hemisphere. These statistics are wanted for use by the British Commissioners connected with the Behring Sea negotiations.

Denied in Toto.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 26.—Colonel Kohn O'Day, late Attorney-General for the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad, who being sued by that road to get possession of land purchased by O'Day for the company, and which it is alleged he refused to surrender, denies in toto the allegations of the petitioner.

A Motion Denied.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—The motion for Charles Schmidt, who is being tried for burglary and who has figured prominently in the Bell murder case, moved for a change of venue to-day, on the ground that the Court and District Attorney were prejudiced against defendant because of the letters to the District Attorney which were read in Court Saturday. Judge Truitt denied the motion and the work of impaneling a jury began.

A Young Candidate for the Penitentiary.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—A special to the Post from Redding says: Frank Wedenberg, formerly a message boy in Oakland, who was arrested with one Stevens for robbing the Weaver-ville stage, confessed the crime to-day and showed the officers the box and way-bills. The gun was found in the river.

A Compromise Probable.

LAWRENCE (Mass.), Oct. 26.—Timothy Hopkins and wife were in this city yesterday as guests of Eldridge Burleigh, one of Hopkins' attorneys in the Searles will case.

Rumor has it that Hopkins and Searles will meet some time this week and a compromise is probable in the near future.

DEATH OF MRS. MOODY.

One of Truckee's Oldest and Most Respected Citizens Gone.

The Truckee Republican says: Friday at about 6 o'clock a telegram was received by John Moody, Jr., announcing the sad news that his mother had died that afternoon. The dispatch was sent from North Adams, Mass., by Mrs. D. B. Towner. The cause of her death was hemorrhages resulting from the extraction of a tumor in the breast. Mrs. Moody has been a sufferer from tumors for the past two years. She has submitted to various medical and surgical operations, but without relief, new tumors forming as the old ones were removed. As a last resort, nearly three months ago she went to Massachusetts to a sanitarium where cancerous diseases are made a specialty. The treatment was very severe, and during the time she was there she suffered intense agony, in comparison to which death was a thousand times more preferable. Mr. Moody left here last Monday to go to her bedside, but it is not probable that he arrived there to see her alive. The body will be brought here for burial and will probably reach here next Thursday or Friday.

It is with deep feeling of genuine sadness that these lines are written and the same feeling prevails all through the community. Last Friday night when the news of her death was circulated through the town the expressions of regret were universal and the sorrow of the community was deep.

Mrs. Moody has been a resident of Truckee for the past twenty years, and during that time she has been conspicuous in every work of benevolence she has been foremost in every charitable enterprise, in church work and in every laudable enterprise.

BREVITIES.

Local and General Intelligence.

Cocoanuts at the Candy Kitchen.

Call at the Merchant's Exchange for cool summer drinks.

Louis Dean yesterday bought all the hay Pat Kelly had for sale.

The boys are making big preparations for Admission Day celebration. Pure alfalfa honey (strained), 10 cents per pound at the Candy Kitchen.

The Gazette has issued 10,000 extra copies the past month. It issues 1,000 extra to-night.

C. A. Thurston keeps everything in the news line and sells cheap. Go there and examine his stock.

A careful estimate of the apples in Honey Lake Valley makes it from 30,000 to 35,000 boxes, or 750 tons.

Go to John Bell's shop and take a bath in one of his elegant porcelain tubs and you will feel like a new man.

The Gazette's foreign as well as home subscription list is constantly growing. It added 15 to its list to-day.

Hay is in good demand now and many of the farmers have sold out. There won't be much of a surplus left over next spring.

Try Alturas roller flour and you won't use any other. It is cheaper, too, than any other brand to be had in the market and every bit as good.

James McDermitt, the Millford fruit grower, returned from the Comstock last night, where he disposed of 600 boxes of winter apples at $1.25 per box.

You will regret it if you do not attend the A. O. U. W. ball at the Pavilion Oct. 30th. Grand March at 9 o'clock sharp. New music by Fredrick's orchestra.

A Sunday Runaway.

C. B. Luce of the Inyo Marble Works, while out driving yesterday with a young lady in one of T. K. Hymers' best rigs, was run away with. Both occupants were spilt into the street. When the horse found himself free he proceeded to make kindling wood of the buggy, and at last accounts had not been captured. The young lady was slightly scratched about the face, but Mr. Luce was not injured.

DEATH VALLEY.

What John H. Clery Says of It.

John H. Clery, of the United States Weather Bureau, who has been stationed at Death Valley for the past six months came in from that uninviting section last night. To a Gazette reporter he gave the following information regarding that hell hole of creation: So far as the valley itself is concerned, said Mr. Clery, there is nothing there to stimulate anything living to stay by. From the 15th of June to the 15th of September the temperature was usually above 100° in the shade and makes it impossible for man or beast to do anything but live under the eaves of a cabin and pant like a lizard for breath. During the month of July the hourly average temperature was 102° and during the month of August it was 101°. The highest temperature that Mr. Clery recorded was 122°. For the days and nights during the hottest period the spirits in the thermometer did not go below 100° day or night but they went several fingers below that in Mr. Clery's stomach several times. The only vegetation there is the "mesquite bush" and they are few and far between, and the bean bush produces a sometimes used by the Indians to make bread of. The minerals found in the Panamint range on the west and the Funeral range on the east, Mr. Clery says, is quite rich, bearing large deposits of both gold and antimony, but the distance from railroad communication makes it entirely worthless. The only recreation Mr. Clery had during his sojourn was to go out on the "devil playground" and toy with lizards, horned toads and rattlers. There is an immense borax deposit in the valley that is exceedingly rich, and with railroad facilities would soon become very valuable. Mr. Clery says that during the winter months the climate is quite desirable and that undoubtedly there will be much work done by ambitious prospectors who are anxious to make a stake. Mr. Clery will remain in Reno as the guest of J. A. Russell of the Western Union for a few days when he will go to Galveston, Texas, to which place he has been transferred.

"Baldy" McCoy.

A. B. McCoy, commonly known as "Baldy" and years ago an old Western Union lightning slinger of this place, passed west this afternoon at 4:30. For twenty years past he has been located in New York, but is now returning to the coast to remain. Ben Shearer headed a host of "Baldy's" old-time friends who went to the train to meet him. They made it very lively for the old lightning bug while the train stopped. Mac has aged a little, but is the same convivial spirit as of yore.

Beef Cattle.

Lloyd and Jess Rhoads arrived last night with about 70 head of fat beef steers for Louis Dean which were taken to the Lake ranch to be fed until spring. Mr. Dean received yesterday from Wm. Collegan 96 head which were also taken to the Lake ranch.

Dean will receive 600 more from the northern country the last of this week.

Are Your Children Subject to Croup?

As a preventive and cure for croup, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has no rival. It is, in fact, the only remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant and safe for use. There is not the least danger in giving it to children, as it contains no injurious substance. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by J. B. McCullough, Drug-gist.

THROUGH the energy displayed by the Honey Lake Land and Water Co., a corporation composed of California gentlemen, Lassen county is being called to the attention of the world as it never has been before, and every eye points to progress and the settlement of Honey Lake Valley by new blood and prosperous people in the near future. A few fine men can work wonders in a new country by concerted action, especially when the opportunities for the investment of idle capital are as good as they are most anywhere this side of the mountains. THE GAZETTE hopes the Honey Lake Company will be the means of bringing ten thousand people into Honey Lake, and it will if it goes on and carries the good work it has so nobly begun to a successful completion. Is it not about time for Reno to begin to move?

THE deadly gas jet is once more making its annual list of victims, in San Francisco, Sacramento and other places. They belong to all classes, learned and unlearned, sober and too convivial. A careless twist with an uncertain hand, and the sleeper turns confidently on his pillow to awaken in eternity. Some time ago a genius invented an automatic apparatus for preventing the escape of gas from jets carelessly blown out by hayseeds, or by gentlemen who have dined too well, or by ladies weary of life. Like most inventors of useful things at their debut, he is probably meeting with discouragement from a cold world. But if legislative enactments could make use of his beneficent invention imperative, we would have fewer accidental deaths to chronicle.

EVERY citizen who has the welfare of Reno at heart should point to our public school with pride, for there is no better on the coast. A boy or girl who graduates from our High School is fortified with an education that will enable him to fight the battle of life successfully, but if he wants to be a man of letters the doors of the University are open to him, and he can load himself up with all his head is capable of carrying, and be a man among men in any of the walks of life. Reno offers better inducements for all who are hungry for knowledge than any town of four times its size in the world. Come to Reno if you want to educate your children at small expense for the University has a faculty second to none in the United States.

ROBERT BONNER, the owner of Sunol, still thinks that Maud S. is a greater mare than Sunol, and that if Sunol made her race against time on the regulation track he thinks she would have been unable to beat the record so long held by Maud S. According to the opinion of other prominent horsemen, Mr. Bonner does not know the stuff of which his California mare is made, as several of the best informed trainers and drivers have expressed the unqualified opinion that Sunol will yet bring her record down to 2:07 or even 2:06 if she remains in the same careful hands.

It is reported that many German manufacturers have cut down wages and profits so as to put their goods on the American market from 35 to 40 cents lower than formally in order to meet the McKinley tariff. In that case, how is it to be shown that American consumers pay the duty? There are many such facts cropping up here and there in Europe which show that our advocates of free trade have been simply trying to delude the people with cock and bull stories about the "robber tariff." Taken together, these isolated facts make a first-rate Republican argument.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR JONES, now acting Governor of New York, says the Bulletin, is laid up under an operation on his eyes, but he has got them opened sufficiently to write to a friend that the only way to get rid of the disgrace of Tammany rule is to vote for the Republican ticket. There are many other prominent Democrats in New York of Mr. Jones' way of thinking, besides a host of Mugwumps. The New York Times looks very lonesome and out of place in the Tammany column. Its name ought to be sent up for prayers.

QUEER WAYS OF DYING.

Some of the Thousand Doors by Which Men Make Their Exit.

The recent catastrophe on, or rather in, Mount Vesuvius probably stands at the head of the unusual or sensational ways by which men have lost their lives, writes James Payn in the Illustrated London News. There is actually nothing more shocking about it than in similar accidents elsewhere—as, for instance, those which sometimes occur to men in our Black country. But the falling into a crater of a volcano sends a foot deep, and at the bottom "burning marie," has a strong claim upon the imagination. There is, indeed, one parallel case, that of Empedocles—for Pliny only perished from "the vapors" (a common complaint in old-fashioned times)—but it happened (if it did happen) a very long time ago, and notwithstanding the increased opportunities that are now afforded for ending life in strange ways the ancients beat the modern record.

The Emperor Anastasius and Gaius were both killed by lightning—a finale which, if it happened to a modern monarch (and far more to two of them), would certainly give occasion for much journalistic enterprise. But in those days it really seems as though great sovereigns, by no means admirable in other respects, went out of their way in the manner of their exits to give their subjects a sensation. Thus Johann, emperor of Constantinople, in drawing a bow at a bear, too strongly, shot the arrow through his own hand, and since the bear had, as usual, been dipped in poison, died in consequence. Tarquinius Priscus was choked by a fish bone. Charles II. of Navarre, having become paralyzed, was sewn up in a sheet dipped in distilled spirits, "in hopes to recover his benumbed joints," and the surgeon, wanting a knife to cut his thread, made use of the flame of a candle, which caused the poor king to perish miserably. Henry I. of Spain was killed by a tile falling from a housetop. Pope Clement VII. died of the fumes from a poisoned torch, and Pope Adrian VI. from swallowing a fly in a glass of spring water.

Among lesser persons, the fate of Heraclitus, the Ephesian, would have been most singular had he not been acting under medical advice; but now that many people are killed "by the doctor's orders," it excites less surprise. The particular fate of his family physician was mud baths (of a peculiar kind); and having anointed himself all over with this beastliness, and "sitting in the sun," the doctor, supposing him to be a wild beast, tore him to pieces. Similarly, the poet Anacreon, giving ear to his physician's statement that the juice of raisins would prolong his life, shortened it by swallowing a grape stone.

In English history, perhaps the most sensational catastrophe in the way of "exit" is that of the outbreak of jail fever at Oxford in 1577, when "there arose such a sudden damp in court" that all present were in danger of being smothered. The gentlemen on the grand jury "died that instant." The lord chief justice and the high sheriff sickened and died within the week. In all "perished five hundred persons, amongst whom there was neither woman nor child." The means by which the abbot of Tavistock got the mayor of Plumstock into his possession is indirectly connected with this subject, for, though the manner of death was common enough, the device used for evading it (though in vain) was most peculiar. One Child, a rich landowner in Devonshire, was lost on Dartmoor in a deep snow. He killed his horse and crept under the carcass for warmth, having first written with his blood these words: "He that finds me and brings me to my tomb My land of Plumstock shall be his doom." The monks of Tavistock found him, and took his land under that singular will.

LUNACY IN A CAT.

It Had a Craze for Being Run Over by Horse Cars.

The jovial driver was speeding along one of the dark avenues where the electric light is subdued considerably by heavily-foliated trees, says the Buffalo Express. Just then a little fox terrier took it into his head to give chase to a black cat, which made straight for the street car and seemed bent on passing underneath it.

"What became of that cat?" inquired one of the passengers, who wondered whether it was possible for a member of the feline tribe to get ground to powder in this way and no sound to be heard. "It dodged and went from under again," replied another passenger who had been watching the movement.

Then it was the driver's opportunity to astonish his audience. He did so after this fashion: "On my rounds on the East side there used to be a cat that would sit out in the middle of the track and allow horses and cars to pass over without budging an inch."

"What!" exclaimed an incredulous individual, "do you mean to say that the same cat used to sit regularly out on the street and allow the car to pass over it without getting hurt?"

"Fact," replied the driver. "The cat seemed to have a craze for that sort of thing and wasn't a bit afraid of horses or cars." This, if true, is as striking an evidence of the intelligent observation of the horse as it would seem to be a proof of the lunacy of this particular cat. Tough, but True. There has been a great deal of talk about the ferocity of Tip, the big elephant in Central park, New York. But those people who happened to be in the elephant house at three o'clock the other afternoon come to the conclusion that he was very playful. Two women in company with a little girl had been feeding the big fellow lozenges (above all things he likes lozenges), but the stock at last gave out. Tip waited patiently, when at last a thought struck him. He cautiously advanced his trunk and in a second had removed one of the gentlemen's hats. He carefully laid it down on the hay and waited again. Beans were offered him, to wit, crackers, but not until the owner of the hat had bought more lozenges did Tip relent, for as soon as he saw them he, with a good display of grace, returned the hat and received a whole handful of his favorite sweets in return.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Weak Women

Owe to themselves a duty to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, in view of the great relief it has given those who suffer from all the peculiarities to the sex. By purifying the blood, regulating important organs, strengthening the nerves, and toning the whole system, it restores the debilitated to health.

After 15 Years.
"For 15 years my mother has been troubled with milk leg. She went to different parts of California, as persons said the climate might help her, but it was of no avail, and I, being a druggist, thought I would get her to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before she had taken half a bottle she said she was improving, so she continued until she took half a dozen bottles, and now she is perfectly well. For nearly fifteen years she was unable to walk around, but now she can walk as well as ever." T. F. Blake, San Francisco, with C. F. Richards & Co., Wholesale Druggists.

Like a New Creature.
"I have been for years trying to get help for that terrible general debility and weakness so common to women. Within a year I have taken ten or twelve bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I am now feeling like a new creature." Mrs. F. A. Ross, Martin, Texas.

Old People.

J. V. S. is the only Sarsaparilla that old or feeble people should take, as the mineral potash which is in every other Sarsaparilla that we know of, is under certain conditions known to be enacting. J. V. S. on the contrary is purely vegetable and stimulates digestion and creates new blood, the very thing for old delicate or broken down people. It builds them up and prolongs their lives. A case in point:

Mrs. Belden an estimable and elderly lady of 810 Mason St., S. F. was for months declining rapidly as to seriously alarm her family. It got so bad that she was finally obliged with fainting spells. She writes: "While in that dangerous condition I saw some of the testimonials concerning J. V. S. and sent for a bottle. That marked the turning point. I regained my lost flesh and strength and have not felt so well in years." That was two years ago and Mrs. Belden is well and hearty to-day, and still taking J. V. S.

ANOTHER EXCURSION.

More Land Buyers Seeking Investments in Honey Lake Valley.

What the Honey Lake Land and Water Company Are Doing For the Country.

Yesterday the second of the Honey Lake Land and Water Company's excursions came up from San Francisco and went out to the seat of operation at Long Valley. The following gentlemen composed the party: A. Fredrick, H. P. Wickersham, Duncan McNea, C. A. B. Brackett, S. S. Burge, W. P. Tremble, T. J. Parsons, B. Hess, W. H. Edwards, Will Earl, J. Fargo, Fred Brandt, C. H. House, J. J. R. Cockraft, James Cockraft, W. B. Lake, all of San Francisco; G. L. Small, Kings River, Cal.; J. B. Dondas, Dakota; B. Sheehan, San Mateo; creek bed) of 1,431,164,000 cubic feet, or 10,733,700,000 gallons. To convey the water from the reservoir to and upon the land, which it is proposed to irrigate, will require some 24 miles of main canals, two and a half of which will be on side hills, and the balance level cutting; about 23 miles of secondary canals, and about 57 miles of distributing ditches. The location of the main canals and distributing ditches is shown by the map which accompanies this article. This plan contemplates a system that will deliver water to each half section it is proposed to irrigate. On the line of the north main canal there will be a dam 1,000 feet in length across Long Valley Creek. The main canal, for a distance of 14,000 feet will have a capacity of about 9,000 miner's inches. The north branch will have a capacity at outlet of 8,500 inches, diminishing to 500 inches. The south main will have a capacity of 2,000 inches, gradually diminishing to 250 inches, while the secondary canals will each have a capacity of from 200 to 2,000 inches. The average grade will be about four feet per mile. It is estimated that this will cost about $100,000. The soil is a dark sandy loam of great depth and richness and retains moisture well. With water it will produce anything known to the temperate zone. This land has lain fallow for centuries and now that the Honey Lake Land and Water Company have undertaken to reclaim it that section of the country will be a perfect garden in less than five years and the land, surrounding ranches bringing with them samples of fruits and vegetables their land has produced, the magnificent display of which would convince the most skeptical that the land with a little water will produce any and all kinds of fruits and vegetables. The land which is to be watered by the contents of the immense reservoir is a tract of 100,000 acres with a perfectly smooth surface sloping gently to the north and east. By the first of May, 1893, this extensive tract will be marked off into squares, by ridges and little streams of clear water, which will make it ready for fruit trees, alfalfa and berries. It is quite reasonable to predict that in the spring of 1894, when this immense tract will have been thoroughly irrigated and sown to grain or to the deeper colored alfalfa, there will be one magnificent green plain, just slightly inclined to the north and east, waving in its bright emerald beauty, ten miles wide and sixteen miles long, but it is more likely that this tract will be planted with all the forty varieties of pears, the peach, the apricot, the nectarine, the plum, the cherry and the plum; besides all these every variety of berry known to our gardeners and melons of many kinds. Then go up on the Sierra tables—grander than Lebanon—and look down on this enchanting picture; another Damascus, with Pharpar and Abana on either side, snow everlasting on that western ridge, thousands of feet high, but long reaches of the Damascus plums purpling under the Syrian sun below.

Admission Day.
The young Native Sons of Nevada propose to make Saturday next a red letter day in the history of the State. The parade promises to be a feature never before witnessed in the State. It will consist of the University Battalion, the Reno Guards, Patriarchs Militant, Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias and others. There will also be features introduced representing the past, present and future. The exercises at the Opera House after the parade will be full of interest to the old as well as the young.

PERSONALS.
H. C. Cutting left for California this morning.
M. D. Foley went to Carson this morning.
O. Ring returned to Carson on this morning's train.
J. L. Wines was a passenger for Carson this morning.
Geo. Winters, the Smoke Creek sheep man, is in town.
Mrs. Wm. Lucas returned from California yesterday morning.
C. D. Van Duser was among the arrivals from the city yesterday.
Ed. Ferris of Long Valley came up from below yesterday morning.
James McDermitt returned to his Millard home via the N.-C.-O. this morning.
Geo. Schaffer, the Truckee lumberman, came down from the hills yesterday morning.
Mrs. A. Bingham, an aunt of Mrs. M. D. Foley, left yesterday for her home in Canada.
James L. Flood and wife and Miss Jennie Flood passed east yesterday morning in a special car.
Col. R. P. Keating, the Comstock mining superintendent, returned from below on this morning's train.
Herman Folk, an old-time partner of Alvaro Evans, but now a successful fruit grower of Marysville, went to Carson this morning.
Geo. Douglas came in from Douglas county, where he is employed on the ranch of the Cohn Bros., on a visit to his family, and returned this morning.
D. A. Bender and Barney McClure, who spent yesterday at Prosser Creek, throwing the fly, returned this morning and continued on home. Their catch was small.
Supt. H. M. Yerington of the V. & T., accompanied by his wife, returned from San Francisco this morning. Mr. Yerington will go back to the city Wednesday night, where he is under medical treatment.
T. J. Parson, President of the Del Monte Milling Co. of San Francisco, was one of the Honey Lake Valley excursionists yesterday. Mr. Parson thought well enough of the proposition to file on a quarter section.
M. Nathan, the clothier, returned from the Bay yesterday morning, where he purchased the largest stock of the latest style goods ever opened in Reno. Genial Louis Cohn, who has been chief cook and bottle washer during Mr. Nathan's absence, will have a breathing spell, as the "old man" will get into the harness and Louis will play second.
R. H. Burner, a member, and Chas. W. Coglan, Secretary, of the California State Board of Equalization, were of the Honey Lake excursionists yesterday. They agreed that the outlook for prosperity in Honey Lake was far better than anything they expected to see. They are both keen, far-sighted business men and their judgment is worth having.

Rescued from the Depths of Misery.
The misery endured by unfortunate whose lives are derelict in duty is unspeakable. Sick headaches, nausea, costiveness, disorder of the digestive apparatus, heartburn, vertigo, unrest, sourness of the breath, uneasiness beneath the short ribs and right shoulder blade, sickle appetite, are among the hateful indicia of biliousness, which, however, speedily vanishes when Hostetter's Stomach Bitter is employed as a regulator. Most effectually it is a work of disciplining carried out as a complete renewal of the digestive, secretory and excretory functions satisfactorily proven. In cases of malarial disease the liver is the principal gland involved, and for malady of a malarial type Hostetter's Stomach Bitter is an absolute specific. As a laxative—painless but effective—it is unrivaled, and it is an admirable preventive of chronic kidney trouble and rheumatism, and a superb general tonic and corrective.

There is None Better.
Dr. R. L. St. John of Howland, Polk county, Missouri, takes especial pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, because he knows it to be reliable. He has used it in his practice for several years, and says there is none better. It is especially valuable for colds and is a preventive and cure for croup. This most excellent medicine is for sale by J. B. McCullough, Druggist.

Everybody expressed themselves as well pleased with what they saw and are willing and indeed anxious to put their money in. When the excursionists arrived at Engineer Taylor's camp in Long Valley they were invited to a dinner, to which they all did ample justice. After dinner the excursionists were taken in wagons and driven over the country that this enterprising company intend to reclaim. It lies on both sides of Long Valley creek in Honey Lake Valley, about two and a quarter miles below the reservoir, and comprises parts of townships 26, 27 and 28, in ranges 16, 17 and 18. For further information see the map published, showing the location of the works and the watershed tributary to the reservoir.

THE DIMENSIONS OF THE DAM Will be as follows: Extreme height, 96 feet; width at base, 500 feet; thickness at top, 20 feet; length at height of 85 feet, 740 feet; length at height of 96 feet, 950 feet. With a dam of these dimensions, the water can safely be raised to a height of 90 feet above the present bed of the stream or within six feet of the crest of the dam. This will give a reservoir with an available capacity above the outlets (which is proposed to place at an elevation of 25 feet above the which now can be bought for $7.50 per acre will be worth nearer $100. That the company means business, no one who has given the subject any attention entertains the smallest doubt. They have 25 teams, wagons, scrapers and 40 men at work now and propose to push the work as fast as labor and money will allow it, to a speedy completion. This vast tract being on the line of the N.-C.-O. railroad, the facilities to market are excellent. It is most surely an awakening from a century sleep, and a new era of prosperity awaits that portion of old Lassen. The Gazette expects to see the south end of Honey Lake Valley dotted with happy and prosperous homes in the near future. The time has come when all such places as nature offers to the Honey Lake Land and Water Co. will be rapidly taken advantage of, and this enterprising company is to be congratulated on being among the first to reap the benefit.

For several years we have heard of the possibilities of irrigation, and all those living in the West have seen the wonders it will produce, making gardens of roses out of dry plains of sand, and waving forests of living green where before not a tree or shrub could be seen. Many people have read of these things as they have read the Arabian tales, and believed them as much as they believed those and no more; but the members of the Honey Lake excursion saw yesterday with their own eyes what the land of that valley will produce, for at Taylor's camp were gathered about 250 farmers who had come in from the

ANOTHER COUPLE MADE HAPPY.

W. H. Noyes and Miss Minnie Douglas Form a Co-Partner-ship.

George Humphreys of the Monarch saloon came into the Gazette office this morning with several bottles of Roderer, which he laid on the editorial table. When questioned as to "what that was on," he replied that he thought the editorial brain needed stimulating and took pleasure in presenting the sparkling Roderer with the compliments of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Noyes.

"What, Billy married?" asked the astonished Gazette man.
"Yes," replied George, "the lost a rib last evening at 6 o'clock, and Miss Minnie Douglas got it."
"Well, that being the case, the GAZETTE will drink to the health of Mr. and Mrs. Noyes, and may they live long and prosperous."

Mr. Noyes is a successful tiller of the soil on the meadows and a native son, and a good one, too. Miss Douglas, the bride, is the daughter of George Douglas, and is one of Reno's most popular young ladies. Here's to the health and happiness of the young couple again.

less than an hour, that he is now insane. All proceedings in the murder case against him will be suspended and he will be sent to the Insane Asylum. Whenever he recovers he will be tried on the criminal charge now pending.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklin's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merit. Wm. Fininger, druggist.
